“The Kansas Economy– Trade, Foreign Investments and Tariffs”

Mr. Jeremy Hill

Regional Executive and Vice President
Federal Reserve Bank

Jeremy Hill serves as Regional Executive and Assistant Vice President for the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City. In this role, he is the Bank’s regional economist for Kansas and Missouri, leading regional research initiatives regarding key industries and community issues across both states’ economies.

He also coordinates strategic outreach initiatives to enhance the Bank’s connections throughout the two states. Hill joined the Bank in 2024, from the Center for Economic Development and Business Research at Wichita State University, where he served as director since 2009. He holds a bachelor’s degree in business administration and Master of Public Administration from Georgia Southern University.
